Southeast Florida’s next big thing.

Taft, one of the fastest growing law firms in the nation, announced its expansion into Florida through a merger with the Mrachek Law firm, a litigation boutique based in West Palm Beach and Stuart. The merger, effective June 30, 2025, marks Taft’s entrance into Florida and the Southeast with the 18-lawyer trial team from Mrachek, further strengthening Taft’s position as a new, super middle-market firm nationwide.

Alan B. Rose, who serves as Taft Florida chairman and partner-in-charge of the West Palm Beach office, said, “After 25 years as a boutique, and at a time when the firm was flourishing and growing, we saw an opportunity to further expand the breadth and scope of our practices by joining forces with Taft. This presents an exciting opportunity for our firm and our clients. Taft’s collaborative culture and reputation in high-profile litigation matters matches both our values and our focus. We look forward to leveraging Taft’s national platform to enhance how we’re serving clients in Florida. This will allow for expansion into key practice areas – real estate and corporate transactions; land use; trusts, estates and probate; technology and life sciences; private wealth management and preservation, among others.”

“We’re delighted to welcome this highly talented team at Mrachek as we continue to grow our nationwide platform,” said Taft’s Chairman and Managing Partner Robert J. Hicks. “The Mrachek team is a perfect complement to our litigation capabilities across the country, and our shared commitment to exceptional client service and advocacy makes this an ideal partnership. As we look ahead together, we anticipate attracting additional top-tier talent to Taft in these markets and plan to expand into other strategic practice areas there.”
